Consistency in the Lord: Crystal Johnson

Covenant Bible Camp (CBC), as many of you know, is a critical part of CYAK's continuum of discipleship care. It is a pivotal time for students as they refocus their lives on Christ or begin their relationship with Him. Part of the mission of CYAK is to build up indigenous leaders in rural Alaska so they in turn will build up the next generation of Alaska church leaders. As a part of the Leader's for Life program, which CYAK coordinates throughout the year, students wrapped up by attending the leadership camp at CBC. James Barefoot, director of a mentoring ministry, Byron Bruckner and myself lead seminars around the theme of "Consistency in our walk with Christ." Students were challenged to examine areas needing change that they may live a life of consistency. This is important because many of the students' lives are like a roller coaster. We encouraged them to look at the Word of God as a standard for living. To know that God's love and healing helps them to live a life of consistency. To make decisions not based on emotions, but on the Word. To continue to serve that their faith does not become stagnant. The entire camping season went well and we continue to see God's hand at work. Thank you for your service. Your support makes ministry to rural Alaska possible.

Team Update: We'll greatly miss all your hard work!

Tyler & Ruth are moving on to Soldotna. They'll be missed in Unalakleet, but we're glad they're still in state! God bless their new beginnings.

Jamie & Erica will be in Chicago at the North Park Seminary. We pray that God will bless their marriage and future plans.

Mary will be starting a new adventure teaching in the village of Tuluksak. We know that God will continue to bless her and those around her.

Ministry Needs:

Leaders for Life:

This will provide funding for committed student leaders to attend the Leaders for Life training week at the end of each year. We hope to build up potential indigenous Alaska church leaders.
